Discouraging reports come from the Irish-American Committee which recently went over to attempt to secure harmony among the Irish party factions. Judging from the stories of the campaign in Ire and which are reeled off the cable these gloomy reports are founded on cruel facts. Why cannot those patriots reason that breaking fraternal heads will not help mend a country's wrongs?

Most touching of all the stories that come from Cyrus Firip's sick room is that which tells how the sufferer's mind. wandering in delirium, returned to the days when he was laying the Atlantic cable.
